

Available to undergraduate students in Louisiana=s universities at the junior or senior level for students with a declared major in civil engineering. The applicant must be in good standing academically and have a professed interest in the transportation field as a vocation. This interest must be demonstrated in a one page description relating academic choices and career goals.

A promotional poster for the LADOTD Scholarship Offer. The top half features a woman's face on the right and several dollar bills floating in the air on the left. The LADOTD logo is in the top left corner. The text below the image provides details about the $1000 awards available annually for undergraduate students at the junior and senior levels with a declared major in civil engineering. It includes four bullet points: 1) Applicants must be in good standing academically and have a professed interest in the transportation field as a vocation. This interest must be demonstrated in a one-page description relating academic choices and career goals. 2) Applications and details are available in the civil engineering department office, with applications due by December 7, 2012. 3) These awards are available through LADOTD in conjunction with the Southeastern Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials. 4) Scholarship award applications will be evaluated and administered by the Louisiana Transportation Research Center.

LADOTD Scholarship Offer

$1000 awards available annually for undergraduate students at the junior and senior levels with a declared major in civil engineering

- Applicants must be in good standing academically and have a professed interest in the transportation field as a vocation. This interest must be demonstrated in a one-page description relating academic choices and career goals.
- Applications and details are available in the civil engineering department office, with applications due by December 7, 2012.
- These awards are available through LADOTD in conjunction with the Southeastern Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials.
- Scholarship award applications will be evaluated and administered by the Louisiana Transportation Research Center.